

Note: Nourbia Foods is not simply a freeze-dried food company. We are a food and nutrition company focused on creating practical, nutritious, and culturally relevant food solutions for everyday life, food preparedness, and times of need. We bring together food sourcing, processing, preservation, product development, packaging, distribution, and the voices of the people we serve to make food more relevant, accessible, and useful.

NOURBIA FOODS

Advancing Culturally Relevant Nutrition

Meeting People Where They Are.

Nourbia develops nutritious, culturally relevant food products and practical food solutions for everyday life, food preparedness, and times of need.

Products. People. Solutions.

FOOD FOR EVERYDAY LIFE. FOOD FOR TIMES OF NEED.

People need food every day.

Sometimes they need food that fits their culture, lifestyle, budget, and nutritional needs.

Sometimes they need food that can be stored, transported, and prepared when normal food access is disrupted.

Nourbia develops food solutions for both.

Everyday Nutrition • Food Preparedness • Emergency Response

WHAT WE DO

From Food to Finished Solution

Nourbia works across the food journey to create products that are nutritious, practical, relevant, and ready for the markets and communities they serve.

Source → Process → Preserve → Develop → Package → Distribute

Food Sourcing

Quality ingredients from farmers, producers, and trusted suppliers.

Food Processing

Turning ingredients into safe, nutritious, market-ready foods.

Food Preservation

Using preservation technologies, including freeze-drying, to extend usability and create new food possibilities.

Product Development

Creating products around nutritional, cultural, consumer, and market needs.

Packaging

Consumer, retail, wholesale, institutional, preparedness, and emergency-ready formats.

Distribution

Connecting food with households, businesses, organizations, communities, and response partners.

NOURBIA FOOD SYSTEMS

From Everyday Nutrition to Emergency Response

Nourbia's food solutions are designed around three important moments.

01 — EVERYDAY

Food people can enjoy as part of their normal lives.

Nutritious foods. Familiar flavors. Convenient formats. Culturally relevant choices.

02 — PREPAREDNESS

Food that can be stored and available when circumstances change.

Shelf-stable products, preserved ingredients, food baskets, and preparedness solutions.

03 — EMERGENCY RESPONSE

Food solutions that can help organizations and communities respond when normal food access is disrupted.

Prepared foods, shelf-stable products, preserved foods, food baskets, and customized food solutions.

One Food System. Multiple Needs.

NUTRITION SOLUTIONS

Nutrition Designed Around People.

Nutrition is not one-size-fits-all.

What people eat is influenced by culture, availability, affordability, convenience, geography, and personal preference.

Nourbia develops food products that consider the whole person and the way food is actually used.

Nutritious. Relevant. Practical. Accessible.

LET PEOPLE CHOOSE

Food Should Be Relevant to the People Who Eat It.

Nourbia believes people should have a voice in the food available to them.

We listen to people, their families, their cultures, and their food traditions.

People tell us what they want.

People choose the products they want to try.

People test the products.

People share their experiences.

People help us improve the products.

We listen. We create. We let people choose.

CULTURAL FOOD SOVEREIGNTY

People Have a Voice in Their Food.

People eat differently.

Cultures are different.

Markets are different.

Needs are different.

Food should be relevant.

Nourbia does not believe that one food should replace another.

We believe in creating opportunities for people to have a voice in the foods available to them.

People Tell Us What They Want.

Nourbia gives people opportunities to share:

- What foods they want
- What flavors they miss
- What products they would buy
- What they liked or disliked about a sample
- What they would change
- What they want Nourbia to make next

People Help Shape the Products.

Nourbia can invite people to experience products, provide feedback, share their stories, and help shape future products.

The process is simple:

Listen → Create → Taste → Test → Share → Improve → Choose

The goal is not to manufacture demand.

The goal is to listen to existing demand and give people a way to express it.

THE NOURBIA FOODS COMMUNITY

From People to Products

Nourbia is building a community around food.

People who receive products and samples can share their experiences and help others discover foods they enjoy.

They can:

Taste → Test → Share → Recommend → Shape the Next Product

When people find foods that reflect their culture, preferences, and daily lives, they can share those foods with their friends, families, and communities.

Our Customers Are Part of the Journey.

People are not simply customers.

They can become participants in the development and discovery of Nourbia Foods.

People tell us what they want.

People tell us what they think.

↓

Nourbia improves it.

↓

People choose whether they want it.

↓

Nourbia produces and distributes it.

This creates a continuous relationship between people and food.

FREEZE-DRIED FOODS

Preserve More. Create More.

Freeze-drying is one of Nourbia's food preservation and product-development capabilities.

It allows us to create lightweight, convenient, shelf-stable products from fruits, vegetables, proteins, meals, and ingredients.

Fruits • Vegetables • Proteins • Meals • Ingredients

Freeze-drying can support:

Everyday Foods • Food Preparedness • Emergency Response • Food Service • Ingredients

We use preservation technology to create better possibilities for food.

FOOD INNOVATION

Better Food Starts With Better Solutions.

We look at the complete food journey and ask a simple question:

How can we make food more useful to people?

That can mean creating a new product, preserving an existing food, reducing waste, improving convenience, adapting food to a market, or developing a solution for a community or emergency situation.

Source → Process → Preserve → Develop → Package → Distribute

FOOD RECOVERY

More Food. More Possibilities.

Good food should have more than one opportunity to create value.

Nourbia works with farmers, grocery stores, retailers, and food producers to identify suitable surplus ingredients and explore opportunities for processing, preservation, product development, and new markets.

Food recovery can help reduce waste while creating nutritious products and ingredients.

FOOD PREPAREDNESS

Be Ready With Food That Matters.

Preparedness is more than storing calories.

People need food that is nutritious, practical, familiar, and usable.

Nourbia develops food solutions that can help households and organizations prepare for disruptions while maintaining variety, convenience, and nutritional value.

Store. Prepare. Preserve. Be Ready.

EMERGENCY FOOD & RESPONSE

Nutrition When It Matters Most.

When disasters, displacement, shortages, or other disruptions affect food access, communities need practical food solutions.

Nourbia develops and supplies food products designed for storage, transportation, distribution, and use when normal food systems are disrupted.

Our capabilities include:

Shelf-Stable Foods

Freeze-Dried Foods

Prepared Meals

Preserved Proteins

Staple Foods

Fruits & Vegetables

Family Food Baskets

Custom Food Solutions

We work with organizations, businesses, institutions, communities, and response partners to develop appropriate food solutions for specific situations.

Prepare. Respond. Nourish.

EMERGENCY RESPONSE PARTNERSHIPS

Food Solutions for Times of Need

Nourbia works with organizations and response partners to develop and coordinate practical food solutions when communities experience disruptions in normal food access.

Our capabilities can support:

Sourcing → Processing → Preservation → Packaging → Distribution

Solutions can be developed around the size, location, nutritional needs, cultural preferences, storage requirements, and distribution model of each situation.

Understand the Need. Build the Solution. Move the Food.
